Arctic Fox

by Northwood

Welcome

*Ron & Sherry Nash
welcome you to the camping comforts of the Arctic Fox travel trailers and 5th-wheels.*

Our goal at Northwood is to provide "no nonsense construction" in a unit built strong to withstand off-road use without neglecting the comforts of home.

Those of us living in the rugged Northwest know the importance of constructing travel trailers and 5th-wheels insulated well enough to withstand adverse weather conditions and durable enough for extended cross-country and off-road travel.

Your choice of 5th wheel floor plans.

Roomy dining and living area w/flush-floor and slide-out overheads.

All Foxes have R-18 blanket insulation in the ceiling, R-7 in the walls and floor—40 to 60% more protection from extreme temperatures than you will find in other units on the market today. We make you as cozy as a little Fox!

From the basics to the frills built into the Arctic Fox, you will see the pride of workmanship reflected in the finished unit.

Diamond Plate Bulkhead protects and beautifies.

You will appreciate the integrity of the structural steel chassis which has been designed to carry the weight of your unit and provide adequate carrying capacity for your personal belongings. 5/8" exterior plywood floors not strand board provide additional strength and resilience to the coach.

Spacious galley areas feature oak raised-panel doors and drawers with abundant storage.

See for yourself why Northwood has one of the highest highway safety ratings in the industry. Structural steel chassis frames (C-channel smaller units—"I" beam for super slide models) are engineered for superior strength and structural integrity specific for each model. The straight axles provide extra ground clearance for off-road use. The tandem axles are strategically located to offer the perfect balance for your tow vehicle. Tires with appropriate load range are selected for each model for maximum carrying capacity and safety. Retractable non skid double steps (triple steps on slide models) provide safe and easy access.

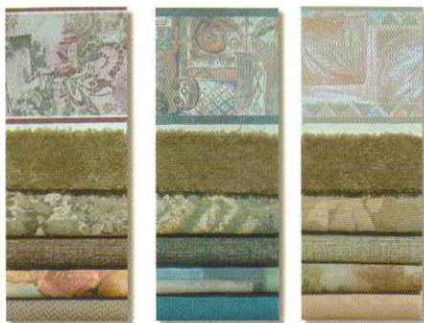

The durable laminated hardwall surfaces are easy to maintain. The tough diamond plate rockguard (small travel trailers) and diamond plate bumper wrap leave a lasting impression of no-nonsense construction. More important, the exterior fiberglass is resistant to flying road debris, chips and dents. Fiberglass front and rear caps come standard on larger Foxes.

Charming bedroom areas offer extensive wardrobe and storage space.

The full walk-on roof has been specifically designed to withstand heavy snow loads and shed water quickly. The Northwood 4 1/2" or 5 1/2" crowned roof truss system is topped with 3/8" plywood (not strand board) and sealed with one-piece laminated rubber. The roof is finished with oversized rain gutters with down spouts to divert water away from the side of the coach.

Choice of 3 rich color schemes.

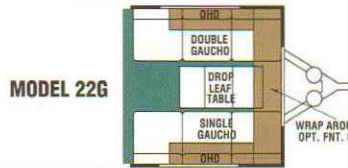

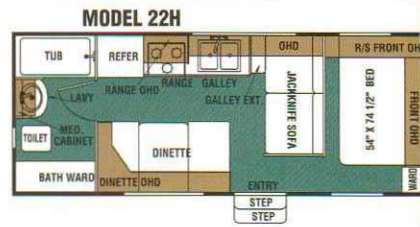

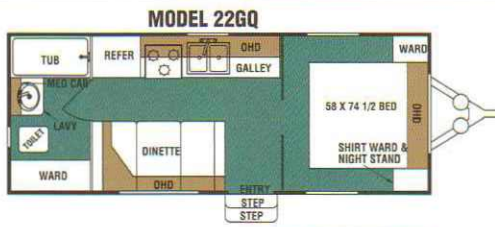

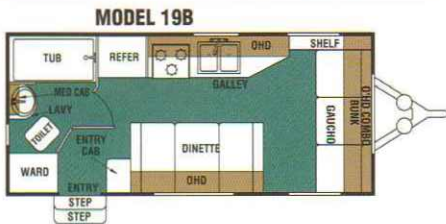

From the basics to the frills built into the Arctic Fox you will see the pride of workmanship reflected in the finished unit.

With so much emphasis placed on the structure of the Fox, we at Northwood want to assure you that we did not forget the amenities. Every Fox is equipped with ducted roof air conditioning, awning, microwave, TV antenna, dual axle shock absorbers, enclosed-heated holding tanks, black holding tank flush system, DSI gas/electric water heater, tinted windows, spare tire group and many more features to enhance the beauty and convenience of your traveling home and insure your comfort away from home. Generators are available on some Foxes starting with the 22H. Check out the complete list of features and compare the value.
