Room to move when you are on the go.

Ask any experienced RV owner and he or she will tell you storage is a priority. We've planned carefully so that you can travel with all the items which are important to your leisure time, and we've positioned the storage, inside and out, so it is easy to access. There is room for clothing, linens, equipment and outdoor furniture, so go ahead, take it along.

Storage space is ample and easy to access

1. The slide-out pantry has metal drawer glides, a shelf for high packages, and a separate waste container area below.

2. Mountaineer's standard bicycle rack extends from the rear bumper frame, supporting up to 200 pounds. The rack allows you to store bikes or other large items which do not fit easily into the pass-thru bay. The ABS plastic storage tray and vertical steel support beam allows items to be transported safely and securely during travel.

3. The huge under-seat storage drawer beneath the booth dinette is easy to access without disturbing diners.

4. Ample under-bed storage has room for bedding or other larger items.

5. The pass thru storage bay with optional slide tray is intelligently designed to allow cargo items to remain clear of plumbing pipes. Side swing baggage doors on the off-door-side allows easy access to your cargo without the doors hitting the bedroom slide room. Fully enclosed dump valves prevent winter freeze-ups.

Towability plus exterior features set Mountaineer apart in Value and Quality Constructed with Total Surround Aluminum Plus™ framing in the walls, roof and floors, Mountaineer weighs 700-1,500 pounds less than comparable wood-framed brands. Further, Mountaineer achieves huge weight reduction through the use of laminated sidewalls, which also provide superior strength and higher insulation values. The Mountaineer line is loaded with state-of-the-art details like its seamless one-piece underbelly which improves air flow while it protects the underbody and insulates the holding tanks. As for value, we believe you will agree there is no match in its category, even as you observe Mountaineer's uncompromising luxury. Mountaineer offers structure, exterior style and efficiency which matches its remarkable interior quality.

The fully enclosed and heated underbelly allows for extended seasonal use.

Easy lube axles can be lubricated without removing the wheel.

Spacious accommodations provide room for you and your guests.

NEW! SIDE-AISLE BATHROOM

offers unmatched space and privacy with full access to and from the bedroom and living areas while the bathroom is in use. Our solid pocket door offers significantly more bedroom privacy than the typical accordion doors used by competitors.
