South Bay

On the water you expect quality and reliability in your boat and your equipment. As builders of the most luxurious pontoons available, we feel a duty to construct a product that is built right, built to be reliable and built to last.

We Believe in Keeping Our Promise to deliver boats of the highest quality, with the most features, for the most reasonable price possible.

WE BELIEVE...
IN THE POWER
OF OUR PEOPLE

IN A JOB WELL DONE

- Heavy duty roto-cast plastic bases and backs are virtually impervious to effects of the harsh marine environments
- Anti-microbial foam resists mold and mildew for lasting beauty
- Our vinyls are manufactured to resist both the harsh ultra-violet and constant moisture associated with boating

We start with air pressurized and chambered construction that strengthens the inner walls of the tubes. The South Bay chassis is constructed using extruded C-channel and box channel cross members spaced every 16 inches. This provides a rigid platform and a more stable base for each pontoon boat.

At South Bay we also weld a full-length structural riser to the tubes and bolt to floor supports. Marine-grade, stainless steel fasteners are then used to attach pressure-preserved marine plywood deck panels to the crossmembers, floor supports and risers. The result is a design that produces superior strength and durability.

Lasting comfort, support and durability are built into all our on-deck furniture. Foundations with tubular steel construction and serpentine springs far exceed ABYC standards and high-density foam is covered with the highest grade, soft-touch marine vinyl.

- 16" on center cross member spacing.
- More cross members and stainless steel deck fasteners when compared to competitors' products using 24" on center construction.
- 7-ply 3/4" pressure preserved marine plywood deck panels.
- TIG-welded joints superior to all others in the industry
