Aerodynamic Ultra-Lite Design Better Fuel Economy

Aerolite, North America's first Ultra-Lite travel trailer is specifically designed to be towed by most new, more fuel efficient SUVs and light trucks. Aerolite's aerodynamic profile is designed to push air up the front wall and over the roof to improve towability and fuel economy. Plus, we position the "Stabili-Trax" axles and balance the weight of each floor plan to create the optimal hitch/weight/axle ratio for towing. Improved aerodynamics, optimal weight balance and a lower center of gravity results in the best towing characteristics possible in an Ultra-Lite trailer.

Stabili-Trax Suspension

Wide stance axles mean enhanced stability for towing. With more weight on the axles and the center of the coach there is less bucking making towing easier, smoother, and giving you better fuel economy.

NEW! "SS" Super-Slide Series

The Aerolite "SS" Super-Slide Series features floor plans with 38" deep flush floor slide rooms. This design adds a large amount of living space without adding a significant amount of weight. All models are half ton towable.

Platinum Grey Exterior

Upgraded fiberglass exterior, premium graphics package and great front cap enhance looks and towing for better fuel economy.
