Fishing Tip - Did You Know? - Many fish, especially walleye and smallmouth bass, will track a crankbait and follow it right to the boat. Make a habit of stopping your lure 2-3 ft. from the end of your rod when you're finished retrieving your cast and pause it for a second, especially in muddy water. Walleye especially will often strike a lure right at the boat if you let them.

Give respect

Get respect

PLEASE Respect Other's Property

Practice "Leave-No-Trace" - Recently, some people were fishing on the river on someone's lot. While this practice is ok with the tenant, there were some things left behind to include dirty socks left on their grill and some fishing hooks left on their chairs that ultimately injured the next person who sat down. If you wish to fish from shore on someone's lot, asking permission is ALWAYS appreciated and when you leave, it should be as if you were never there...
