Say goodbye to yesterday. The future of fiberglass RVs is now here. The MorningStar is a molded fiberglass RV built for resilience and refined travel. With a bright, open interior and high-end finishes, it's perfect for couples or small families who value durable construction, smart design, and modern comfort for the journey ahead.

MORNINGSTAR-i

The MorningStar-i stands as its own model, crafted with the same molded fiberglass construction, refined design, and attention to detail as the MorningStar, but built for those who push further. With independent suspension, off-road tires, ABS brakes, and impact-resistant front cap coating, it's made to go beyond the pavement without sacrificing comfort, durability, or performance.
